

CAR OVERVIEW

THIS... is a 2007 Mercedes-Benz SL550, finished in Iridium Silver Metallic with a black and anthracite interior. The odometer on this SL550 currently indicates approximately 58,800 miles. The attached Carfax history report lists no accidents or mileage discrepancies in this SL550's past. It also shows that this car has been registered in Florida, Texas, and Georgia since new. Factory equipment includes the Premium 1 Package (bi-xenon headlights, multi-contour seats, heated and ventilated seats, Keyless Go), the Wood Trim Package (wood and leather steering wheel and shift knob), 18-inch wheels, an Active Body Control suspension system, a power-folding hard top, leather upholstery, a Bose audio system, and more as detailed below. Called R230 internally, the first new SL of the 21st century made its debut for the 2003 model year as a replacement for the venerable R129 model. It was appreciably quicker and far more advanced than its predecessor, it ditched the boxy lines for a sleeker and more rounded design, and it came standard with a power-retractable hardtop. Power for this SL550 comes from a 5.5-liter "M273" V8, rated at 382 horsepower and 391 lb-ft of torque. Output is sent to the rear wheels via a 7-speed automatic transmission.

Also, when I click on the thumbnail, I would assume that it would open a zoomed image but it just changes the main image to the thumbnail selected

When I upload an auction listing, it doesn't come up on our home page. If I search it, it comes up. I noticed that once I bid on the item it shows on the home page but regardless of whether it has a bid or not it should show on the home page once it's uploaded.

We have 23 auction listings uploaded as per the CRM but only 14 showing on the home page. Both grid view and list view.

ReCAPTCHA error but when I press OK it goes to the next stage

Mobile already registered with another account but it doesn't mention anything. For the purpose of testing the system, this is great as I can create multiple accounts but I think one mobile number should only be associated to one account.

I can create multiple accounts using the same username.

I spoke with Mr Naz. Please let us know what the purpose of the username is as the customer cannot log in using the username. If possible, we can get rid of this field and just leave it as Password/Confirm Password.

I understand that sometimes the vehicle colour may be Pearl White but we could have it as White for the form. The finer details will be entered when uploading the auction listing.

If we could have a dropdown list for the specification. Some customers may not understand what we are referring to.

Buy with us form fill creates an actual profile/account for the customer and the Sell with us form doesn't.
